

WHO'S MICHAEL?

I'm Michael Leach. As an author I write about the power of wild places. For over a decade I've worked as a wilderness advocate, environmental educator and rabble-rousing green guy, galvanizing and inspiring audacious guardians of our wild planet in peril. If you're looking for an original, dynamic and inspiring speaker who will captivate and motivate your audience, look no further, you've found your man! Whether it be nonprofit fundraisers, colleges, corporate gatherings, or bookstore events, the only complaint I've ever received after a presentation is: "How are we going to top that?"

THE YELLOWSTONE FACTOR

Why heart habitat and a new language represent our hope for the future of our wild world. Often referred to as my Yellowstone "sermon" this presentation is a celebration of place, the Greater Yellowstone ecosystem, and the power of wild places to shape our future.

BIOGRAPHY

Michael W. Leach is first and foremost a storyteller and inspirer of people. Michael's edgy, energetic and irreverent approach to celebrating wild places and the power of the human spirit has captivated audiences from coast to coast. Michael's first book, Grizzlies on My Mind, represents a decade-long odyssey of advocacy, adventure and self-discovery in the wilds of Yellowstone.

 "Michael embodies the rare combination of passion, eloquence, and unbridled enthusiasm that helps give activists like us the optimism and energy to continue our work."

—MATHEW ELSNER, CHAIR, SIERRA CLUB - DENVER METRO NETWORK

 "I guarantee he will not disappoint! He can captivate ANY audience. He is by far the best public speaker I have ever witnessed."

—STEVE HOFFMAN, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, MONTANA AUDUBON
